BRECKINRIDGE'S CASE.

Increased Interest in the Great Breach of Promise Trial.

ANOTHER DAY OF DEPOSITIONS.

Attempts to Prove an Alibi on Certain Nights on Certain Dates When Miss Pollard Had Testified That the Colonel Was with Her in Lexington.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—General Coxey's Army of the Commonweal has been no more successful in attracting to itself a miscellaneous aggregation of celebrities than was the Pollard Breckinridge trial yesterday. In a front row opposite the jury sat the governor of Indiana and several members of his staff. Behind them was Captain Philip King, of the Princeton University Baseball team, supported by his warriors. Further in the background was the usual mixed audience, with a select sprinkling of congressmen, who come and go with every day of the trial. There were no ladies, because the sex is outlawed from the room, but after the court had adjourned two fashionably attired women slipped in at a side door under the guidance of a bailiff and stood for five minutes staring at Colonel Breckinridge, where he sat in consultation with his lawyers, as children are accustomed to stare at the animals in a menagerie.

There were hours devoted to arid depositions which were intended to prove an alibi on certain dates when Miss Pollard had testified that the colonel was with her at night in Lexington, and others casting a shadow of suspicion upon her maiden character. Perhaps the most interesting of the depositions was that from Aleck Julien, the blind lover of Madeline Pollard, who figured as the substitute husband in the mock marriage at Squire Tinsley's house on the Christmas of 1882.

In the objections to the depositions for the defense both sides were even. Judge Bradley excluded several, and expressed regret that he had not power to quash them all because of their needless obscenity. Being a staunch Presbyterian, moreover, he suggested that the newspaper correspondents should expurgate their reports in the interests of public morality.

Attorney Stoll read the depositions of Joseph C. Bailey, clerk of the Woodford county circuit court at Versailles, Ky. From the records of the court the clerk had testified that in 1884 there were indictments for murder against Ollie and R. P. Brown, and that Colonel Breckinridge had been one of the defending attorneys. It appeared that the trial was in progress on Aug 5, the day upon which Miss Pollard had testified that the colonel took her to the house of Sarah Gess, in Lexington; also on Aug 12, 13 and 16.

The cross-examination of the clerk, read by young Attorney Farrell, of Lexington, developed the further information that during this trial Colonel Breckinridge had frequently driven over from Lexington, returning at night, and sometimes bringing his wife. He had attended the whole trial of Ollie Brown.

One of the Lexington lawyers, Edward M. Wallace, who had been associated with Colonel Breckinridge in the defense of Brown, had deposed that the colonel was present throughout the trial, arguing the case and examining the witnesses, and his statement was read. Next came the deposition of Judge Rodney Hagart, who had been associated with Colonel Breckinridge as counsel for the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad in cases tried in August, 1884.

The deposition of Judge Jerry R. Morton to prove that the defendant was in Jessamine county, Ky., from Aug 27 to Aug. 30, 1884, was read, and the cross-examination showed that the town was an hour and a quarter by railroad from Lexington. Judge Joseph D. Hunt's affidavit corroborated that of Mr. Hagart, and Theodore Davis, clerk of a court, deposed that Colonel Breckinridge had voted in Lexington Aug 4, 1884, and W. S. Marsh corroborated his testimony. Nat. L. Bronaugh, a lawyer, added his testimony that Colonel Breckinridge had been engaged in the Jessamine county court from Aug 27 to 30 1884, but could not say where he (Colonel Breckinridge) had passed his nights during that time.

The deposition of William G. Wood, a carpenter of Lexington, stated that he had been engaged to marry Miss Pollard in the fall of 1882. When he informed her that he could not afford a trip to Europe, as he had promised, she flew into a rage and threw the engagement ring at him.

The deposition of Aleck Julian was then read. Julian stated that he was 40 years old, had been blind since 1882, as the result of shooting a pistol which he didn't know was loaded, and had known Miss Pollard three or four years before that. He thought she was 15 or 16 years old when he first knew her. He spent the night of Dec 24, 1882, at Squire Tinsley's, about a quarter of a mile from Graffenburg. There were present Squire Tinsley and his family and Madie—Madeline Pollard.

Continuing Julian testified: "After breakfast we were talking about matrimony, and somebody suggested that I should marry Madie. Owen Tinsley, the esquire's brother, who was pretty hilarious, said he would marry us, and we stood up and I married her. After awhile he left, saying he would leave her in my charge. We were talking and then one of us suggested that when people were married they usually went to bed. She consented and we went up. She had been drinking and I helped her down on the bed, or helped her there, and sat down on the bed."

At the time of the mock marriage, he thought, Miss Pollard was about 18 years old.

Then came questions about the contents of a letter received by Julien from Miss Pollard, which were ruled out on the grounds stated by Judge Bradley, that a blind man could only know by hearsay the substance of a letter sent him.

Everything that Miss Pollard had done that morning at Squire Tinsley's, he explained, was because of the intoxicants she had taken. Apart from that incident he considered her as nice a girl as he had ever known. Her conduct was that of a chaste and modest young woman.

He had kissed her just as he would kiss any girl. Saw nothing wrong about it, and had kissed many women.

At this point the court adjourned.

Paid His Entire Indebtedness.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Lazarus Silverman, the well known banker of this city, who suspended last August with liabilities of $1,500,000, resumed business yesterday. He has liquidated his entire indebtedness by paying in full, with interest, to everybody.

Fearfully Tortured by Thieves.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 27.—Late at night thieves entered the residence of Basil D. Hall, a wealthy farmer of Great Bend, Jackson county. Covering Hall with revolvers they bound him to a chair and demanded the money he had received from the sale of a farm. Hall said he had sent the money to the bank. Then, with a lamp, they burned his hand to a crisp and roasted his ears. Unable to stand the torture longer Hall opened his safe, and the thieves robbed him of $5,000 and a gold watch. Hall, who is permanently crippled, thinks he can identify the robbers.

Serious Riot in an Italian Village.

ROME, March 27.—A serious riot took place yesterday at the village of Montedoro, in the province of Caltanissetta, Sicily. A number of workmen became involved in a quarrel which rapidly spread until the whole village was mixed up in it. The police attempted to quell the disturbance, but were set upon by a large crowd and compelled to retreat. Before doing so, however, they inflicted severe injuries upon three of the rioters. One gendarme was injured by the mob. Reinforcements were procured and the rioters were finally dispersed.

Gravesend Election Crooks Plead Guilty.

BROOKLYN, March 27.—Andrew Scott Jamieson, convicted last week of perjury, was sentenced by Judge Brown in the court of oyer and terminer to eighteen months in the penitentiary. The eighteen indicted election inspectors of Gravesend were then called upon to plead, and all pleaded "guilty," with the exception of Frank T. Clark, who pleaded "not guilty," and Patrick Tighe, against whom the indictment was dropped.

Saunders May be a Double Murderer.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 27.—John Saunders, the Hungarian who shot and killed little Christopher Hendershot and wounded two other persons at Midvale last week, was given a hearing yesterday. The hospital physicians testified that Andrew Boshock, one of Saunder's victims, was still in a dangerous condition. The prisoner was recommitted to jail.

West Virginia Miners Quiet.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 27.—All of the miners of the Kanawha valley resumed work yesterday. About 5,000 men are now employed. There is no trace of the recent bloody disturbances left here.

An Interstate Battle.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 27.—At the mouth of Knox creek in Logan county, Dave Christian became involved in a difficulty with Ed Bensley, Andy Coleman, Nett Simpson and R. Mechem. Christian was on the West Virginia side of the river and the other men on the Kentucky side. Christian was shot twice by the gang, and his wounds may prove fatal. Over 100 shots were fired by the parties across the river. Two of the Kentuckians were injured but not fatally.

To Protect Behring Sea Seals.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, had another long interview with Secretary of State Gresham in connection with Behring sea matters. There are evidences that the efforts which both parties have been making to arrive at a satisfactory agreement touching the regulation of the seal fisheries this season are likely to be crowned with success within the next ten days.

Refused a Special Venire.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The attorneys for Prendergast, the assassin of Mayor Harrison, asked yesterday for a special venire to avoid delay in securing a jury for the insanity proceedings, which began today, but the order was denied by Judge Chetlain.

Scrofula Eradicated.

"My sister has been annoyed with scrofula for several months. After doctoring in vain with a number of doctors, I prevailed upon her to take Hood's sarsaparilla and she wishes me to write that the scrofula has all disappeared. I had a stomach trouble, but since taking Hood's I am entirely well." Miss Lina Corsis, Warwick, N. Y.

Hood's Pills cure sick headache.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need a special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the liver and kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, salt rheum and other affections caused by impure blood.—Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of headache, Constipation, and Indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.—Price 50c. and $1,00 per bottle at McMonagle & Rogers Drug store.

The best Blood Purifier—McMonagle & Rogers' Sarsaparilla, "Nature's Tonic,"—75 cents.

SENATOR COLQUITT DEAD.

A Committee of Senators Accompany His Body to His Late Home.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—United States Senator Colquitt died at his home in this city yesterday. He became unconscious towards the last, and the end was painless. Both houses of congress adjourned after brief sessions as a mark of respect. The funeral took place in the senate chamber at 9 o'clock this morning and was conducted by Rev. W. H. Milburn, chaplain of the senate. After the services the body was taken at once to the railroad station en route for Macon, accompanied by the following committee of senators: Messrs. Gordon, Morgan, Butler, Ransom, Gray, Hoar, Proctor, Carey, Perkins and Allen.

Alfred Holt Colquitt, of Atlanta, was born in Walton county, Ga., on the 20th of April, 1824, and was graduated from Princeton college twenty years later. After studying law he was admitted to the bar in 1845. In the Mexican war he served as a staff officer with the rank of major, and afterwards he was elected to the Thirty-third congress. He was elected a member of the state legislature in 1859, and in 1860 was a presidential elector at large on the Breckinridge ticket. In the rebellion he entered the Confederate service as captain, and attained the rank of major general. He was elected governor of his state in 1876, served for four years, and was then re-elected, under a new constitution, for a term of two years. In 1883 he was elected to the United States senate, and in 1888 he was re-elected. His present term would have expired on the 3d of March, 1895, and he was a candidate for re-election.

Decided Against the Lawyers.

BROOKLYN, March 27.—Some time since an action was begun in the supreme court by Hannah Healey against her husband, Michael Healey, for separation, and the defendant was directed to pay counsel fee and alimony. Later an agreement was entered into by the parties, which resulted in the suit being discontinued. To this counsel made objection, as it would deprive them of their fees. Judge Bartlett in an opinion yesterday, said: "Motion to discontinue granted. However meritorious may be the claim of the attorneys in this action, I do not see how the court can keep alive a matrimonial action in order to enable the attorney to obtain his fees."

Deserted by His Counsel.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., March 27.—At the opening of the April term of the district court Colonel Charles W. Clarke, of Cedar Rapids, announced the withdrawal of himself and Hon. G. W. Burnham, of Vinton, as counsel for the defense in the case of State vs. D. G. Ramsey, grand chief of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, for cutting the telegraph wires of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern. As these gentlemen were supposed to be Ramsay's main strength in this case, which means so much to him and his order, their action has created much comment among members of the local bar.

Student Taylor Still in Custody.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 27.—F. L. Taylor, the member of the sophomore class at Cornell university, who was committed to jail for contempt of court in refusing to answer questions in regard to the poisoning of the colored woman Jackson at the time of the dinner of the freshmen class, left here yesterday for Watkins, where his case was heard. At Watkins Justice Walter Floyd Smith heard the argument in the habeas corpus proceedings for Taylor's release. He reserved his decision and remanded Taylor to the custody of the sheriff of Tompkins county pending the decision.

Vetoed by Governor Werts.

TRENTON, March 27.—Governor Werts last night sent to the house the bill which repeals what is known as the Guttenburg justice of the peace law, with his objections thereto. The repealer was regarded as in a line with the other race track repealers. The law permitted any one arrested on the race track or elsewhere to select what justice of the peace they would be arraigned before. The governor vetoes the repealer on the ground that the law is a good one, even though it has been abused.

Da Gama at Buenos Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES, March 27.—The Portuguese warships Mindello and Albuquerque with Admiral da Gama and the other Brazilian insurgent refugees on board, have arrived at quarantine station here. Owing to the presence of yellow fever at Rio de Janiero they will not be allowed practique until the expiration of ten days. It is the general expectation here that the vessels will in a short time proceed to Europe, taking with them all the Brazilian officers.

Veterinary surgeons, whose professional skill is every day invoked to relieve some fine animal with knife or lancet, are challenged to make a critical examination of Salvation Oil, the great American liniment. Many testimonials from the profession demonstrate its great value for the cure of sprains, cuts, bruises, and all kinds of wounds. Price 25 cents. At all dealers.

Don't Despair.

If you are weak and weary from some so-called chronic disease, don't give up. Sulphur Bitters has given hope to many invalids, where hitherto there was nothing but despair. It will build up and renew your whole system.—Editor Weekly American.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.

COXEY'S FROZEN ARMY

Cold Weather Depresses the Enthusiasm of the Army.

RECRUITS COME VERY SLOWLY.

Only Seventy-two Had the Courage to March from Canton to Louisville—A Meal Awaits the Hungry Marchers at Economy, Pa.

ALLIANCE, O., March 27.—The Coxey crowd arrived here at noon today, and are encamped on the fair grounds. There are many people in this city who sympathize with Coxey, and the army will be reinforced here. Several consignments of food for the army arrived from country villages near here. There is anxiety about the possibility of a row in the army while it is here. It is stated that men in the ranks, the privates, have said that if Coxey tries to abandon them here on the pretext of going to a Chicago horse sale there will be a breakup of the whole business and a scrap to finish it. The members of Company K, Eighth regiment, understand that they may be called on at any moment, and if trouble occurs the militia will be called out at once. Forty destitute men, hungry and half frozen, arrived here on freight trains Sunday night and last night sought shelter in the city lockup. They came to join the Commonweal army. Fourteen men from Bergholz, a mining village in the northern part of Jefferson county, arrived yesterday to join the army.

But seventy-two of Coxey's Commonwealers had the courage to march away from Canton yesterday afternoon in the face of the wintry blast that was blowing at the time set for the start. The band deserted at that point also, and that took much of the spirit out of the soldiers. The march from Canton to Louisville through two inches of snow and in a temperature 20 degs above zero was anything but a pleasant experience for the thinly clad wanderers, who had imagined that the entire trip to Washington would be a sort of a springtime frolic. Fifty tramps were picked up between Canton and Louisville, and when the army went into camp last night it numbered 122 men, aside from the officers. The claimed enlistments are 250. Much excitement was created by the announcement that three of the tramps had robbed a man named John Ruegg of a watch and $10 in money. This was the first attempt at lawlessness, but no arrests were made.

A dispatch from Dallas, Tex., announces that a local group of twenty or more men have been organized there to join Coxey's Commonweal army. They are to start from Dallas for Washington via Shreveport and Vicksburg next Monday or Tuesday, and join General Frye's regiment now en route to San Antonio from El Paso at some point east of Vicksburg about April 15. A supply of rations, shoes, blankets, etc., is being accumulated, and the command when it leaves Dallas is expected to number at least a hundred more.

News comes from Denver that "General" Hamilton's contingent will have to walk out of town unless they pay their fares. The Santa Fe officials have refused to furnish a train to the California division of the army, and will undoubtedly repeat its refusal should the Denver contingent make its promised demand. The other roads will also decline to give free transportation.

Coxey and his Army of the Commonweal will get a royal reception when they strike quaint old Economy, Pa., if they ever get that far on their way to Washington. This was decided upon yesterday by the board of trustees of the Harmony society. A wagon load of potatoes, several hundred loaves of bread and a lot of good, old fashioned ginger cakes, such only as can be found at Economy, have been set aside for the army of peace. Furthermore, it has been settled that a steer is to be slaughtered, dressed and cooked on the hillside when the Buckeye quixote and his followers approach the village.

It is stated that Coxey was asked recently if he was going to march his men from Washington back to Massillon if his mission failed. "March them back," said Coxey in astonishment, "not by a jugfull. I will get on a train and come home myself, but the army must get home as best they can."

A Timely Bit of Advice.

In these times of grip and pneumonia it is of great importance that we should know where to look for a safe and sure remedy. A slight cold may become a serious one, the scarcely noticeable pain in the chest is too often the forerunner of pneumonia. The first cough may lead to consumption (a cough is always dangerous). Never neglect a cold or cough for even one day, but get at once, as a safe and sure remedy, Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure, which is recommended on all sides. It should be kept in the house regularly to avoid delay when needed. It is sold at all the drug stores.

Mothers Read This.

There has been recently placed in our drug stores Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, recommended by all medical societies in the western part of this State to be the best regulating tonic for all the complaints which ladies are subject to. A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Indigestion and Inward Weakness, and a general regulator for the stomach and bowels. The price is $1 per bottle.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents a box. For sale by McMonagle & Rogers.

A CRANK WITH A GRIEVANCE

Wanted to Kill a Mayor for Appointing a Catholic.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 27.—An exciting episode occurred last evening at the residence of Mayor-elect Edward S. Smeltz, which created great consternation in the neighborhood. Mr. Smeltz has been lying dangerously ill since the day following his election, but during the past week had been sufficiently recovered to be able to consider his police appointments. Yesterday he made public his appointments, and they seemed to give general satisfaction. In the evening a man called at Mr. Smeltz's residence and asked to see him. He was told by one of the ladies of the family that he was too ill to see strangers.

The man grew very excited, and said he must see Mr. Smeltz on important business. Again the caller was denied admission, when suddenly he pulled a revolver from his pocket and exclaimed with an oath, "He appointed a Catholic on his police force, and I am going to kill him for it." The screams of the woman and the excited demonstrations of the man with the pistol attracted a large crowd, to whom the crank continued to denounce the mayor for appointing a Catholic. The man quietly walked away before the arrival of a policeman, but he was subsequently arrested at his home. His name is Theodore Klinger, 50 years of age, and he has given the police trouble before.

Molders Locked Out.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., March 27.—The striking molders at the Lockwood Manufacturing company's foundry did not return to work, and a lockout has been declared by the company. A few men in other departments are at work, and they will be given employment for a few days. The company employs 400 men, but the molders' strike affects all departments, and if the trouble is not settled the entire works will be closed. During last summer when business was dull the company paid regular wages on reduced time. When work revived two weeks ago wages were reduced and the strike resulted.

Hartshorne Gets Two Years.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 27.—Professor Hartshorne was yesterday sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Notwithstanding he had pleaded guilty, he broke down when he heard the decision of the court. A timely discovery by Sheriff Douthitt prevented another jail delivery Sunday night. The prisoners said to be interested in the plot were Professor Hartshorne, Charles Jacobs and Samuel Schell. Schell and Jacobs had succeeded in getting out of their cells by unscrewing bolts. They had several saws, and intended to release Hartshorne before sawing the iron bars over the windows.

Demanding a Provisional Government.

COLON, March 27.—The American colony of the Mosquito reservation, through the United States consul, formally demands from the Nicaraguan commissioner, Senor Lacayo, the formation of a provisional government in which the American colony shall be represented. The Americans desire to form part of a council which, it is proposed, shall have the power of naming officials, organizing the police, making the laws and creating courts. The Americans also demand the withdrawal of the Nicaraguan troops and the autonomy of the Mosquito reservation.

Killed by a Maniac.

TERRELL, Tex., March 27.—An insane barber named Peter Beneto was brought from Dallas by a deputy sheriff for confinement in the Northern Texas Asylum for the Insane. When taken from the train he broke away from his keepers, ran into the crowd of waiting passengers and attempted to kill all whom he could assault. A girl named Gertrude Morgan, 12 years old, had her left leg broken in two places and was injured internally so badly from kicks that she died.

A Child Beaten to Death.

BOSTON, March 27.—Medical Examiner Draper submitted his report on the death of Madeline Baudet, the little girl who was found unconscious by an agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children as a result of a cruel beating inflicted by her father and stepmother. He finds that death was due to a blow on the head, and declares the child to have been the victim of homicide. The parents of the child are in custody.

Railroads Responsible for Incompetency.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 27.—The court of appeals affirmed the decision of the lower court awarding Sampson D. Lowe $2,000 damages. Lowe was employed by the Rock Island road on a section gang with three Swedes. While unloading logs he was injured, owing to the Swedes not understanding English. The court holds the road was negligent in employing men ignorant of the English language.

If the lining membranes of the air passages are not in a normal condition, but are rendered abnormally sensitive from any cause, they may become irritated by any deterioration of the air, producing cold. This condition may at once be quieted, and the sufferer cured in a short time by a few doses of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, that unfailing cure for this and all kindred affections.

A KILLING COLD SNAP.

Great Damage to Crops in Various Sections.

FRUITS AND BERRIES RUINED.

The Frigidity Extended South to Georgia, Tennessee and Kentucky, and the Telegraph Brings Discouraging Reports as to Prospects for the Future.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 27.—The cold wave which is now sweeping over the country has probably cut the chances for a fruit crop in this state down to a very low degree. For several weeks past the weather has been unusually warm for the season and the result was that when the cold snap came it caught the fruit trees just ready to burst the swelling buds into blossoms. It is thought that peaches were to a large extent killed by the severe weather in January, but such as escaped that are now certainly gone. Cherries, plums and apples are almost totally destroyed in the central and northern part of the state. A dispatch from English says that the frost has doubtless destroyed the apple crop, the buds of which were well advanced. All small fruit and peaches were destroyed weeks ago.

The Damage in Kentucky.

MIDWAY, Ky., March 27.—The cold wave that reached here yesterday forced the thermometer to 16 degs. Early gardens, tobacco plants and much of the fruit that had escaped earlier freezes have been killed. It is believed that the wheat that is already jointed is greatly injured. Dispatches from Versailles say that the freeze killed all the tobacco plants, early gardens and much of the fruit. Early wheat is also damaged. Tobacco growers are feeling blue, as the plants were forward and unusually fine. At Maysville the thermometer dropped to 14 below freezing, and unmercifully slaughtered the peaches and plums. The farmers say the wheat is badly damaged. Cattlettsburg reports that a great many fruit trees were in bloom, which are undoubtedly killed. The thermometer registered 19 below yesterday.

Maryland Peaches Nipped.

BALTIMORE, March 27.—The cool snap caused the farmers and fruit growers of Maryland and Virginia much concern. Very large crops, especially of peaches, were expected. The early approach of warm weather started all branches of agriculture into activity before the usual time. Dispatches from southern Maryland, the eastern shore and points in Virginia are a unit in declaring that the frost has done irreparable damage to strawberries and peaches. Throughout Virginia ice half an inch thick was made on Sunday night, and fruit trees and early vegetables have suffered very much. From many points the peach crop, it is thought, will be a total failure.

The Missouri River Frozen Over.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—The cold wave which began here Friday last reached its climax Sunday night with a local temperature of 10 degs above zero. As a result reports are coming in from all directions of a complication of the damage previously done by the cold snap to fruits, etc. The statement is now general that crops of berries and fruit which had been given an early start by the warm weather are now an absolute loss. At St. Joseph the Missouri river is frozen from bank to bank. It is not believed the apple crop has been injured, the buds not being sufficiently open.

Pennsylvania Farmers Alarmed.

PITTSBURG, March 27.—Pittsburg was visited Sunday night by a blizzard. Snow began falling early and continued all night, and the mercury dropped to 17 degs. The greatest alarm is felt by farmers lest the fruit crop should be ruined. Apricots were in full bloom, peaches either opening up or in blossom, and pears were far advanced. The nipping frost which accompanied the blizzard may have killed the blossoms or a sudden thaw may exercise the same blasting effect.

Tennessee's Wheat Crop Endangered.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., March 27.—The cold wave has struck this section with full fury, the mercury dropping to 18 degs. Sunday night. The farmers have fears for the clover and wheat, although the latter has not reached the point at which point the danger from frost is greatest. Early vegetables are injured to a greater or lesser degree and many truck gardens will probably have to be replanted.

Georgia's Fruit Crop Injured.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 27.—Rump & Moon the largest peach growers in the peach district of Georgia say that 90 per cent of the fruit crop has been killed by Sunday night's freeze and they think the remainder will go by last night's cold snap. All vegetables are killed around Atlanta. The melon crop in Georgia is killed.

Berries Killed in Illinois.

CAIRO, Ills., March 27.—It is thought the cold weather of the last two days has killed the strawberries in this section. Peaches were nearly all killed by the extreme cold of January. The berries were well advanced by last week's warm sunshine, but the weather is now freezing cold.

Damage to Michigan's Peach Crop.

DETROIT, Mich., March 27.—Reports from various counties in Michigan say a variety of [illegible] Dr. Ward's Pectoral for [illegible] however, that early [illegible] All [illegible] will [illegible] this [illegible] frozen.

This is to certify that I have been ruptured on both sides twenty-five years.

That Drs. Jones and Potter, of 1270 Broadway, New York, Rupture Specialists, have completely cured me in seven weeks.

I have not had any inconvenience from the treatment.

I have been examined by two physicians of Middletown, and they both pronounce me cured.

WM. INMAN.

DODD'S EXPRESS,
944 BROADWAY, Oct. 18, '93.

This is to certify that I have taken treatment of Drs. Jones & Potter, and after five weeks' treatment I have discarded my truss and am perfectly cured of a rupture of seven years' standing. I cannot recommend the Doctors too highly in their good work to the public.

THOMAS ARGUE, 249 W. 29th St.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10, '93.

I hereby certify that Drs. Jones & Potter have cured me of rupture, and that during treatment I neither lost any time or suffered any pain.

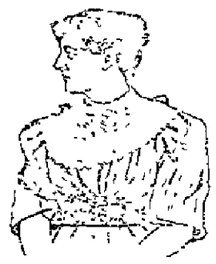
BABY RUTH'S GOVERNESS.

Miss Schultz Lander Is a Beautiful and Accomplished Young Woman.

It seems as if it were only the other day that the world was informed of the birth of Baby Ruth, the eldest daughter of President and Mrs. Cleveland, yet behold she is now no longer a baby, but a romping, sunny faced miss near 3 years of age, for whom it has become necessary to provide a governess. Before long we shall be reading about her toilets and her beaux, and those of us who admit remembering the time of her birth will be catalogued as back numbers and irreverently classified among the old fogies.



MISS SCHULTZ-LANDER.

Just at present, however, we are more interested in Miss Ruth's governess, Miss Jenny Schultz-Lander of Mansfield, O., whose appointment is a matter of legitimate interest to thousands of mothers throughout the land. Miss Schultz-Lander is a young lady of German birth and parentage, who came to America a little more than a year and a half ago and has been teaching modern languages in Mansfield with considerable success. She is beautiful, accomplished and well read and speaks English, German, French and Italian with fluency and precision. It is to her knowledge of languages that her engagement by Mrs. Cleveland is principally due.

Miss Schultz-Lander's hyphenated name is a result of her mother's second marriage. Her father's name was Schultz, and after his death, when her mother married Herr Lander, the four children of the first union added their stepfather's name to their own patronymic. Miss Jenny was born in Bonn about 23 years ago and received most of her education in that old university town. She had also the advantage of two years in a French convent at Villingen, in Baden, where she acquired her mastery of French and other languages.

There is said to be a romance behind the coming of the Lander family to America, in which a young man from Mansfield, who was a student at Bonn, plays a leading part. He boarded with the family during his student days and fell in love with Miss Jenny, who returned his affection. It was not hard for him to persuade the family of his sweetheart that they could do better here than at home, and they crossed the ocean. His parents, however, were opposed to his marrying a foreigner, and he was sent abroad once more, while Miss Jenny heroically devoted herself to teaching.

A PAIR OF MILLIONAIRES.

One Is Devoted to Business, the Other to Social Pleasures.

When Anthony J. Drexel, the millionaire banker of Philadelphia, died last year, he left two sons of mature years, Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., and George William Childs Drexel. The younger heir, as everybody knows, assumed the management of the Philadelphia Public Ledger on the death of George W. Childs and is now deeply immersed in the affairs of that venerable and prosperous newspaper. Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., has displayed a marked distaste for the cares of business life and a few months ago withdrew from active membership in the banking firm of Drexel & Co., announcing his intention to lead a life of elegant leisure.

THE SEMIRAMIS.

In pursuance of this programme the young millionaire is building a luxurious mansion in Philadelphia and recently purchased abroad a steel steam yacht with an interesting history. This yacht, the Semiramis, is 206 feet long, 27 feet beam and 14½ feet deep, is fitted with the latest improved machinery and elegantly equipped. Mr. Drexel bought her of Max Lebaudy of Paris, the young Croesus who has astonished Europe with his sensational exploits as a spendthrift.

The yacht was purchased by Mme. Lebaudy, who, alarmed at her son's extravagance and anxious to remove him from surroundings which she considered dangerous, hoped to coax him into a long absence from France. The yacht was fitted up with every possible comfort, and in order to provide M. Lebaudy with interesting employment his mother arranged with the French government for the appointment of an ethnographical mission under M. Louis Lepicque, who was to accompany him. When the day of departure came, however, M. Lebaudy positively refused to go, and the yacht was sent off without him.

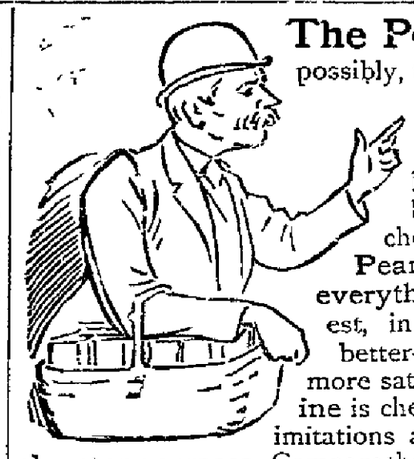
Mr. Drexel also owns the steam yacht Avenel, which he bought last summer. He is a member of the Corinthian Yacht club of Philadelphia, as well as a shining light in the leading social clubs of the Quaker City.

Washington Logs Going to France.

A schooner laden with the huge logs and tree trunks of which the Washington state building at the World's fair was constructed will sail out of the harbor of Chicago some time during May. Its destination will be either Havre or Cherbourg. The Washington state building was one of the most interesting at the fair. Many of the timbers in the building are 3 feet square and 140 feet long. It is the intention of those who purchased the building to set it up in France exactly as it stood upon the World's fair grounds.

Green Snow.

Three places at least are known where green snow is found. One of these is near Mount Hecla, Iceland, another 14 miles east of the mouth of the Obi and the third near Quito, South America.



The Peddler Tells You,

possibly, that Pearline is too good for ordinary uses; he says, "of course it's nice enough for delicate things, but what I have is just as good for scrubbing, scouring, etc., and is cheaper." Now, we say this: Pearline is the best to use for everything, and the best is the cheapest, in the end. It does its work better—more easily, more quickly, more satisfactorily, more safely. Pearline is cheap enough for any use. These imitations are dear at any price and for almost any purpose. Compare the value of the things ruined with the small amount of money saved by the use of cheap powders.

Send it Back When peddlers or unscrupulous grocers tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline," IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 384 JAMES PYLE, New York.

LOST IN A STORM.

The Terrible Experience of a Young Hunter in the Mountains.

Harry Hardinot, a resident of Yorkville, Mendocino county, had an experience last week that will probably result in his becoming deranged. He was hunting in the mountains on Wednesday, and becoming confused lost his way and wandered over the mountains for three days and two nights in the storm without a bite to eat or shelter.

The severe cold and snow which prevailed made his suffering most intense. The first night out he succeeded in building a fire and kept watch during the long weary hours. The next day he started again in his fruitless search for a trail or anything to indicate the way to civilization. The rain drenched him through and through.

At this time, he not returning home, the neighbors were notified, and a searching party of 31 mountaineers was organized. All the adjacent hills, mountains, gulches and creeks were scoured without the least discovery.

Thursday night snow fell on the mountains to a great depth, and the cold was terrible. The unfortunate wanderer was driven before it, his mind almost unbalanced by the hardships he had endured. His travels were through the roughest country—in places never before visited by man. Friday morning found him almost exhausted, yet the spark of life which was left gave him hope, and he kept moving. At last he saw a fence and followed. He was now so exhausted that he was compelled to lie down and rest every rod of the way.

At last he was rewarded in seeing the house of Rodney Lowery on the Rockpile ranch, a sheep range of many thousand acres. Mrs. Lowery saw him coming and ran to his assistance, fearing that he was wounded, as he still clung to his rifle. He could hardly tell his name, he was so bewildered in mind. He had been out in the elements 56 hours, and his emaciated condition told too plainly of his keen suffering. Saturday afternoon two of the searching party found him at the isolated home of the shepherd, and the following day he was conveyed to his home near Yorkville, where he is now under medical treatment. It is feared that he will never recover his health, and if so his mind will be entirely gone, owing to the terrible experience he passed through.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A FLYING STREET CAR.

An Aerial Whaleback to Run by Trolley at the Antwerp Exposition.

A flying street car is the latest novelty which an ingenious Belgian has devised for the convenience and amusement of visitors to the Antwerp exposition. He does not call it a flying street car, but "grand balloon dirigible" is the Belgian way of putting it.

In appearance the flying street car resembles the famous Pennington airship or a miniature whaleback upside down. The floating apparatus is a huge cigar shaped bag, to which is attached the street car itself. In the front or prow of the car is an immense fan or propeller, and at the other end an apparatus like a barn door in three sections, which provides a rudder.

The car is divided into three sections, one for the motorman, another for the passengers and a third, which corresponds about in size to the baggage apartment on a suburban car, is for the use of the conductor.

The much abused trolley system has been turned to good account in connection with this flying street car, as from the overhead wire the electricity is obtained with which to work the motor. Connecting the car with this overhead wire is a traveling cable, one end of which connects with the motor, the other being attached to a trolley which slides along the wire as the car moves.

In the rear compartment of the car, where the conductor has his quarters, is all the paraphernalia for lowering the machine. A stout ship's anchor attached by a wire cable to a windlass, which in turn is connected with the electric motor, provides the means for hauling down the flying car when a station is reached where passengers are to alight.

The first practical demonstration of this aerial means of rapid transit will be made during the Antwerp exposition. One model machine is already pretty well advanced toward completion, the termini of the route being the exposition grounds and the bourse at Antwerp, which are about a mile apart.

During the exposition trips will be made every half hour by this novel means of locomotion, and the success of the experiment may probably revolutionize street car traffic. One great drawback to its popularity, however, is that the trip of a mile will cost 5 francs, or $1.—Philadelphia Press.

Nonconformists Make Trouble.

A correspondent says that the nonconformist farmers of Wales, in order to convince the government of the necessity for the early introduction of a bill for disestablishing the state church there, are again refusing to pay tithes. They have adopted Irish Land league methods of resisting and assaulting the sheriff's officers, barricading houses and even indulging in moonlighting. It is not improbable that the military will have to be called upon to assist the civil power. The Tories are arranging for a new campaign in Wales by flooding the country with orators and literature in the interest of the state church.

A Well Worn Bond.

A curiosity in the shape of a Delhi town bond for $500 was turned in to the town treasurer a few weeks ago. It was punctured so full of pinholes as to be almost unreadable, and it bore other evidences of hard usage. As soon as its genuineness was determined, however, the money was paid on it, and a county official made an investigation. Its late owner finally admitted that he had carried the bond for years pinned fast to his undershirt, and that as he changed his shirt quite frequently the bond had become full of pinholes.—Delhi (N. Y.) Letter.

UP THE MIDLAND.

Fears for the Apple Crop—An Armed Lunatic's Wanderings—Recovering from Their Injuries.

Correspondence Argus and Mercury.

—It is feared that the early spring has ruined the apple crop for this season. In some localities the blossoms have begun to show already and a slight frost at that stage is sure to kill them.

—D. A. Oiendorf, of Afton, who has been a little off for some years, left his home about March 16th, starting in the direction of Deposit. One week from that time he came out at Rockland and was held until his friends could be communicated with, one of them coming after him and taking him on Saturday's milk train. The insane man had with him a double barreled shot gun and six cartridges and was, to say the least, a dangerous character to be at large, but "all's well that ends well."

—The Stadle and Ingraham girls, whose parents reside on Horton Brook, in the town of Colchester, and who were shot, while one was sitting on the other's knee by a half-witted fellow with a Winchester rifle, who "didn't know it was loaded," are getting along as good as could be expected under the circumstances. A rifle of this sort would have sent a ball though a three-inch plank twenty roads away, and as it was, it traveled through twenty inches of solid flesh, before it stopped in the thigh of the Ingraham child, where it now remains. When a neighbor comes into your house, dear reader, and begins fooling with shooting irons kick him out doors and throw the shooting irons after him.

The Grip.

An experience with this disease during all its past epidemics, warrants the bold claim that Dr. King's New Discovery will positively cure each and every case if taken in time, and patient takes the ordinary care to avoid exposure. Another thing has been proven, that those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery, escape the many troublesome after results of this disease. By all means get a bottle. It is guaranteed, and money will be refunded if no good results follow its use. Sold by McMonagle & Rogers.

SENATOR COKE TO RETIRE.

A Picturesque and Familiar Figure That Will Be Missed In Washington.

Senator Richard Coke of Texas, who has announced his intention of retiring from public life at the end of his present term, will turn back upon a member of "the American house of lords" for 18 years, having taken his seat for the first time March 4, 1877. His retirement will remove one of the most picturesque and familiar figures from the senate and deprive Washington correspondents of a prolific source of anecdotes with which to eke out otherwise barren and uninteresting letters.

The senator is a rugged specimen of humanity, of giant stature, with a bald head that shines like a spherical mirror and a voice of such power and resonance that his simple "yea" or "nay" on a roll call creates a deeper and more lasting impression than the majority of senatorial speeches. He does not often make set speeches, and his gestures in debate are more emphatic than graceful, but what he says is always heard and generally remembered.

The senator is a Virginian by birth and was educated at William and Mary college in his native state, but he has resided at Waco, Tex., ever since he attained his majority, nearly 45 years ago. He is a lawyer and practiced his profession for a decade before the war broke out, when he enlisted as a private in the Confederate service, being afterward promoted to a captaincy. In June, 1865, he was appointed district judge and a year later was elected a justice of the supreme court of the state by the Democrats.

After having served a year upon the supreme bench Judge Coke was summarily removed by General Sheridan, who was then in command of the Federal forces in Texas, the reason given for the removal being that he was "an impediment to reconstruction." He then returned to his law practice till December, 1873, when he was elected governor of Texas, to which office he was again elected in 1876, resigning before the expiration of his term to take his seat in the senate.

PRESIDENT OF HARVARD.

Charles William Eliot Has Filled That Office For Twenty-five Years.

President Charles William Eliot of Harvard university, who will soon celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his election, has held office for a longer period than any other of the 22 presidents of Harvard with the single exception of Edward Holyoke, who served from 1737 to 1769, and the alumni propose to commemorate the event in a significant manner. They are to have a gold medal struck, to be presented to Mr. Eliot at the alumni dinner on next commencement day, and have empowered a committee to raise funds for the establishment of fellowships or for some other desirable purpose that may be of lasting benefit to the university.

The interest in the celebration displayed by the Harvard clubs all over the country shows that President Eliot has lost none of the personal popularity that has done so much to make his long administration of the university's affairs the most successful in its history. All students who have been under his care have felt in some measure the attraction of his influence, and the best measure of its force may be found in the fact that during his incumbency Harvard has more than doubled the number of her professors and students and more than trebled her wealth.

President Eliot is himself a graduate of Harvard of the class of 1853. During his undergraduate days he was one of the most noted athletes in the college and at the same time took high rank in scholarship. After graduation he was appointed a tutor in mathematics and soon became assistant professor of mathematics and chemistry. He went to Europe in 1863 for an advanced course in chemistry and while there made a study of the educational systems of France, Germany and England. On his return he was appointed a professor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he remained until he was elected president of Harvard in 1869.

The Eliot family is one of the best known and oldest of New England's Puritan stock. President Eliot was born in Boston in 1834. His father was prominent in mercantile and political circles, served a term in congress, several terms in the legislature and was mayor of Boston in 1837 and 1839.

GOVERNOR WAITE WINS.

His Appointees Demand Their Offices, but Their Predecessors Refuse to Vacate.

DENVER, March 27.—Judge Glynn in the district circuit court dismissed the contempt charges, and quashed the injunction against Mayor Van Horn and Fire and Police Commissioners Barnes and Mullins, and empowered the latter to assume at once the duties of the offices to which they had been appointed by Governor Waite. Immediately after the decision had been given Barnes and Mullins, with A. J. Rogers, made a demand upon Messrs. Orr and Martin to surrender the office. This was refused, and the new board went into the mayor's office, where they organized and appointed J. A. Farley chief of police. Unless the old board surrenders there is a possibility of the city enjoying the novelty of two fire and police departments.

Last evening counsel for Orr and Martin took an appeal from the decision of Judge Glynn to the supreme court, on the ground of error in serving the injunction of Judge Graham. Upon the promise of Attorney Ward, for Barnes and Mullins, that no attempt would be made by the new board to proceed to business or make appointments, the court refrained from issuing a writ against the new board, and merely granted a stay until tomorrow, when a decision will probably be given.

Fugitive Embezzler Surrenders.

NEW YORK, March 27.—William T. Zell, ex-treasurer of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company and the New York Athletic club, an embezzler from the former company to the extent of $100,000, surrendered to the chief of police last night. Zell has been a fugitive from justice since Jan 19. He moved in the best society, and his defalcation caused a sensation at the time.

Union Pacific Telegraphers Victorious.

OMAHA, Neb., March 27.—Judge Caldwell will not have to hear arguments by the Union Pacific telegraphers in regard to wages, for the operators have compromised their case with the officials of the road. The exact terms of the new schedule are kept from the public, but the men claim that they have scored a big victory.

McAuliffe Vs. Abbott.

NEW YORK, March 27.—It is understood among certain sporting men that a six round bout has been arranged between Jack McAuliffe and Stanton Abbott, to take place at a show which will be managed by a former official of the Coney Island Athletic club, in this city, about April 15.

Killed by a Single Blow.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—James Gilday, a plumber, was killed by a blow from the fist of an unknown man on Market street yesterday. Gilday had addressed two women, and their male companion sought to punish him, with the result stated.

Uxoricide and Suicide.

REESEVILLE, Wis., March 27.—James Mullen, a farmer living one mile west of this village, murdered his wife and committed suicide yesterday afternoon. Family troubles are ascribed as the cause of the tragedy.

Terrible Cruelty to a Boy.

OWESSO, Mich., March 27.—Public indignation has been aroused against Mrs. Ursula Burpee on account of evidence of her brutal treatment of her adopted son, 12 years of age. The boy has been found in a famished condition, his legs raw, the flesh simply hanging to the bones. The woman claims that he was pinned down by a falling strawstack and his legs frozen. The belief is that the woman poured boiling water into his boots and starved him. Physicians say that both his feet may be amputated. Mrs Burpee was arrested.

Stabbed Seventeen Times.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., March 27.—For some time past Mrs. Joseph Crably has been separated from her husband, and has been employed as housekeeper for B. Frankel. Yesterday her husband called at the house and assaulted his wife, cutting off her nose and hacking her face terribly. She was stabbed in seventeen places, and physicians say she will die. Crably was arrested.

A Witness Arrested for Perjury.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 27.—The investigation of the contested election case of Lippincott against Thompson was continued before the assembly committee on elections at the Camden court house. The most sensational testimony was the evidence of James C. Smith, who said he had voted from race track stable No. 2. He voted under the name of Smith, and passed among some as George Lester. He intimated that he had been induced to manufacture evidence at the instigation of officers of the other side, who had paid him for it. The testimony reflected on Sergeant-at-Arms Graham, and Smith was arrested on a charge of perjury preferred by Graham.

Laidlaw After Sage Again.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The work of getting a jury in the second trial of the suit of William H. Laidlaw to recover $100,000 from Russell Sage was begun yesterday in the supreme court. The plaintiff claims that Sage made a shield of him when Norcross threw down the bomb in Sage's office. At the first trial the court ordered a verdict for the defendant on the ground that it was incumbent upon Laidlaw to show that he was removed from a place of safety by Sage. The general term decided against Sage, and ordered a retrial.

Fatally Shot While Playing Robber.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 27.—Henry Myers, aged 15, was shot and probably fatally wounded by George Mackintosh, a companion, at Canton Cave. The boys, with three others, were playing robbers, and Mackintosh pointed a revolver at Myers and pulled the trigger, not knowing that the weapon was loaded. The bullet took effect in Myers' head, and the physicians say he cannot recover. Mackintosh was locked up, and while nearly crazed with grief attempted suicide.

Imprisonment for Life.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Thomas McNally and Charles Kurth were yesterday sentenced to the penitentiary for life, and Edward Warrin for twenty years for the murder of James Prunty Nov. 16, 1893. The three men were attempting to rob Prunty's house, and being discovered shot Prunty dead and wounded his son Peter so that he died Dec. 9. Sadie Prunty, a daughter of the murdered man, was also shot in trying to save her father, but recovered.

Poisoned His Employer's Cows.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 27.—At Salamanca James Spencer, a burly negro, was discharged by his employer, H. L. Gaeng, a milkman, for making insulting proposals to Mr. Gaeng's daughter. Subsequently the negro placed paris green in the cow's feed and fed the animals. As a result ten cows are dead. A posse is hunting for Spencer.

Four Hunters Drowned.

HOLLAND, Mich., March 27.—Saturday night Eugene McKay, Charles Petrie and two other men left here in a boat to camp out and hunt on Sunday. Yesterday the bodies of the men were found floating in the bay. The victim were Charles Petrie, Jean McKay, D. C. Schaefer and Irwin Thake. Petrie was the only married man in the party.

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1894.

President Cleveland did not get many ducks in his recent expedition to the Dismal Swamp, but he did get stiffened up with rheumatism, which, the Washington Star says, has settled in his right foot and ankle, which are so swollen as to almost completely cripple him.

Senator Lexow has proved himself such a willing tool of Boss Platt that the newspapers no longer look upon him as a mere retainer, but speak of him as a member of the reigning family. Grandson Lexow is the name they have bestowed upon him and not even Grandpa Payn is closer to the boss.

A religious crank attempted, yesterday, to shoot the Mayor of Lancaster, Pa., because he had appointed a Roman Catholic sergeant of police. It would be interesting to trace the mental process by which this hater of Catholics made himself believe that it was his duty to advance Protestantism by "removing" a public official because he did not think membership in the Roman Catholic Church disqualified a man for police duty.

The lawyers for Prendergast, Mayor Harrison's assassin, who obtained a stay for him on the eve of the day appointed for his execution, now make the point that since the judge who granted the stay had no right to interfere, the sheriff should have paid no attention to the order but, since he did so, the sentence lapsed and they argue that Prendergast cannot again be sentenced. Their contention is that having failed to hang him at the appointed time the law has no further hold on him, and they are trying to secure his freedom. It is hardly likely that they will succeed, but queer things happen in Chicago. If they should succeed by legal trick and device in saving Prendergast no voice ought to be raised in protest if an angry mob hung him and his lawyers to the most convenient lamp post.

The cold wave which reached this section, Sunday night, covered almost the whole country east of the Rocky Mountains. From many points in the South, even from Texas, temperatures below the freezing point were reported, and in the Northwest the cold was very intense, twelve degrees below zero having been reported from Williston, N. D., while twenty-two degrees below zero was reached at one point in Manitoba. The cold would not be regarded as unseasonable, for decidedly cold weather is not unusual in the latter part of March, but following after several weeks of very mild weather the cold is felt much more keenly than it would otherwise be, and vegetation has been so advanced that there is reason to fear that serious damage has been done, not only to the fruit crop but also to winter wheat in many of the states.

IN THE RAILROAD WORLD.

—A suit has just been decided at Easton, Pa., which is causing much comment among railroad employes. At the time of the Lehigh strike the Brotherhood of Trainmen agreed to pay regular wages to a number of men if they would not work for the Lehigh. The offer was accepted and these orders being refused, a suit at law was instituted and a judgment against the local branch rendered at $35 per month.

—J. C. Anderson, the General Passenger Agent of the Ontario and Western, was elected President of the Passenger Agents' Association at its thirty-ninth annual meeting just held at Palm Beach, Florida. The meeting of the year will be held at Quebec, Sept. 18th.

—The Erie has granted a Susquehanna engineer, who lost a leg while on duty in August, 1892, half pay from the time of the accident, and paid his medical bill, an aggregate of $1,000. Corporations are not soulless.

—The job of filling in the trestle on the West Shore at Kid's Cove, north of Highland, is about completed. The improvement was an expensive one, but it insures the company against any possibility of danger at that point.

—A switch at Lanesboro was turned, Saturday, by unknown parties and a number of cars allowed to run down on the Erie main track just before the arrival of the fast St. Louis express. Fortunately the operator discovered what had been done just in time to prevent an accident.

Sussex and Orange Counties to Form a Combination.

A circular has been issued calling a meeting of all the jewelers of Orange and Sussex counties, to be held in Dusenberry's Hall in this city, on Thursday, March 29th, at 1 p. m. The object of the meeting is to form a Jewelers' Association for the mutual protection of its members.

Mr. Arthur S. Goodman, of Philadelphia, President of the National Retail Jewelers' Association, will be present and address the meeting, and assist in the organization of a local association.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

Vacation Week—Attendance During March—Regents' Examination.

—The public schools of the city will take the usual spring vacation next week.

—During the past month the average registration in the schools was 1,584; last year, the same month, 1,400. The number of cases of tardiness was 139; last year, 274.

—Eighty-seven per cent. of the pupils who tried the last (March) Regents' examination passed.

UNIONVILLE.

Stereopticon Exhibition—Designated by Ballot—For Better Roads.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—Rev. Wm. H. Carson will give a stereopticon exhibition in the M. E. Church, on Saturday evening, 30th inst. Mr. Carson has a very fine selection of views, (there are no better,) embracing various subjects, which cannot fail to interest and instruct. Admission 15 cents for adults. Children 10 cents.

—The homeliest man and the laziest man in Unionville were designated by ballot on Saturday evening last. The result shows that the community has a very just appreciation of these matters.

—The Road Improvement Committee is active and has already done considerable work in the surveying line. Better roads are demanded and must come.

NO COMMISSION YET.

Annoying Delay in the Matter of Opening the New street.

It will be remembered that District Attorney Hirschberg, Surrogate Coleman and Mr. Geo. W. Murray were appointed by Judge Beattie as Commissioners in the matter of the proposed opening of a new street from West Main street to Sprague avenue.

Two of the members of the Commission, Messrs. Coleman and Murray, declined to serve and City Attorney Wiggins went to Goshen, to-day, to attend a special term of the Orange County Court and ask Judge Beattie to appoint two other Commissioners.

When he arrived in Goshen, however, he learned that Judge Hirschberg had also declined to serve on account of his election as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

The matter was put over until the next special term of County Court, on April 3d, when a new commission will be appointed.

It is unfortunate that there should be so much delay in the matter, as it may interfere with the opening of the electric railroad.

THE A. O. H. BALL.

The Fifteenth Anniversary Celebrated—A Large Attendance and a Good Time.

The fifteenth annual ball of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held at the Assembly Rooms, last evening. It was one of the most successful of the many events of this kind ever given under the auspices of the society. There were about 200 of the members and their friends present. Barnes's orchestra furnished the music and dancing was kept up until about three o'clock, this morning.

An elegant supper was served at the Bell House, about midnight, and it is but justice to Mr. Murphy, the proprietor, to say that it was as fine a banquet as has been served in Middletown in a long time. There was an abundance of good things and they were well served.

The committee in charge of the ball managed the affair most admirably.

Our new and advanced patterns of Carpets, selected with the greatest care, are now on exhibition. Prices were never so low, but we don't sell them in the newspapers at a lower price than we can buy them.

The fact is, advertising in Middletown is fast becoming a farce the same as it is in the New York papers. But we may just as well get in the swim, so don't be surprised if in a few days we advertise Parlor Suits for $1 and Bedroom Suits for 75 cents It is a fact that we are nearing that mark, as we are selling a Brocatelle Parlor Suit for $25 and a Solid Oak Bedroom Suit for $17.50

The old fashioned way is, make them yourself Then your label on them means something. That's the way we do. The other way is to buy them "factory made." and slap your label on. You might as well endorse a note without seeing the face of it! For instance, when we say our Beef, Wine and Iron is as good as it is possible to make it, it's because we KNOW it is so. Why, the wine (Imported Sherry) in it alone costs more than the finished product of some other brands. The same with our Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It's a true Emulsion—NOT A SOAP—and the oil is the finest obtainable and in just the condition to be readily taken by a delicate stomach. Then our Sarsaparilla, "Nature's Tonic." We make it—make it from the actual crude drugs We could buy something for less money, but the quality would be lacking. If we say IT'S OURS, it IS OURS with a record of 26 years to back it up.

MIDDLETOWN'S DRINKING PLACES.

One to Every 150 Inhabitants—"Posting" an All Day's Job—Talk of a $250 License Fee.

Constable Knapp was kept busy, to-day, serving notices upon saloon keepers and liquor dealers in this city, forbidding them to sell or give away any intoxicating beverages to William Osborn, who was arrested, yesterday, for drunkenness. The complaint was made by his wife.

Under the present law, should any of the saloon keepers sell or give away any intoxicants to a person who has thus been "posted," the dealer or; the owner of the building in which the liquor was sold or given away, becomee liable for damages to the same extent as under the "Civil Damage Act" which was partially repealed last year.

Seventy-eight notices were sent out by Justice Powelson, who remarked that he thought there were two or three more that he had forgotten.

Estimating the population of Middletown to be 12,000, this allows one drinking place for every 150 persons, including men, women, children and the thousand lunatics in the State Hospital. And yet the Board of Excise is constantly in receipt of petitions praying for new licenses.

We are informed that the Board of Excise is seriously contemplating increasing the license fee for the coming year, to $250. Should this be done a number of the saloons about town would of necessity be obliged to close their doors, as the business done would not be sufficient to enable them to pay the license fee and the rent of their places of business.

The Hart-Little Wedding

All Middletown is planning to be present at the marriage of Miss Marie Louise Little and Thomas R. Hart, Esq., at the First Presbyterian Church, at 7 o'clock. The cremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. Gordon. After the services at the church there will be a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Prospect Place.

THE PRUDENTIAL'S BANQUET

A Very Pleasant Event at the Russell House, Last Night—Many Guests Entertained by Superintendent Sadlier—The Speeches.

The first prize banquet of the Middletown district of the Prudential Insurance Company, given last evening, at the Russell House, showed most conclusively that it takes a smart man to be a successful insurance solicitor, and that the Prudential Company, so far as the Middletown district is concerned, has a staff of just such men.

The informal reception began at half past seven and shortly before 9 o'clock, the guests were escorted to the dining hall.

Before sitting down, Superintendent Sadlier made a few very appropriate remarks explaining that the banquet was principally to celebrate a victory won by this district in the last three weeks of 1893, in writing far more than the quota of policies asked of it by the officers of the company to bring the number of new policies written during during 1893, up to 1,000,000, and that they were in reality the guests of President Dryden.

An elaborate supper was then served in Landlord Brown's best style:

MENU.

Consomme a la Royale,
Celery,
Queen Olives, Oysters, Fried, Manico Fennelli,
Fillet of Beef, with Mushrooms,
Anchovies, Tomatoes,
Boned Turkey, Ox Tongue, Sliced Chicken,
Boiled Ham,
Mayonnaise of Lobster.
Chicken Salad, Lettuce,
Jellies, Neapolitan Fruited Wine,
Chocolate Vanilla Ice Cream, Assorted Cakes.
Bananas, Malaga Grapes,
Raisins, Nuts, Cafe Noir,
Cigars,
Sherry, Amontillado, St Julien Superior.

The menu were very artistic and will be preserved as souvenirs of the occasion.

The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers and cut glass, and beside each guest's plate was a very neat boutonniere.

Superintendent Sadlier and Assistant Superintendents D. M. Reed and D. O'Connell presided at their respective tables.

When the cigars were lighted, Photographer Mills took a flashlight photograph of the guests.

Mr. Sadlier then read letters of regret from a number of invited guests, who found it impossible to be present, among them being letters from the leading officers of the company, and from Jas. W. Reed, superintendent at Milwaukee, Wis., formerly superintendent here.

Dr. J. H. Thompson, the medical examiner of the Prudential at Goshen, was then introduced by Mr. Sadlier and made a most admirable address on the "Present," dwelling on the wonderful advances made in the present age and showing how the Prudential Company kept in insurance matters fully abreast, if not in advance, of the age.

Mr. Thomas Haggart, Supt. of the Poughkeepsie district, then made a comparison, showing that, while the Prudential is one of the youngest of the insurance companies, it has had a most wonderful growth and already ranking high among the leaders, is bound to take the lead. He congratulated Mr. Sadlier on the success attending his efforts here.

Dr M. C. Connor, the medical examiner for this city, then gave a most interesting history of the company here from the doctor's standpoint, and made some very witty hits and criticisms on members of the staff here.

Dr. T. L Gillson then spoke on the necessity of a complete system of life insurance.

Dr. J. J. Ward, of Ellenville, made some very witty remarks, declining to make a speech in the presence of so many who make their living by talking.

A. D. B. Staats, Esq., made a few appropriate remarks on the beneficence of industrial insurance.

Assistant Superintendent Tolles spoke of "The duties of Assistant Superintendents," and Assistant Superintendent O'Connell, of Port Jervis, and Agents Bank, Weber and Dunham each made a few well chosen remarks, giving pledges of better work in the future.

Mr. M J. Dunham, of this place, holds the enviable position of prize agent of the Prudential Company for Orange county. Out of their 4,500 agents he stands No. 48, and is the only Orange county agent in the first 100. The ranking is on the basis of new business and collections.

Superintendent Sadlier in his very happy way acted as toastmaster and proposed the healths of G. W. Munsick, head of Division B; J. B. Lunger, manager of the Ordinary Branch; Jas. W. Read, formerly superintendent here, now at Milwaukee; Wm. O'Reilly, of Brooklyn, and other absent ones. This toast was drank standing.

In closing the banquet Mr. Sadlier made an address, giving a history of the Prudential company and its phenomenal growth, reciting the early trials and past efforts, making a forecast for the coming year, and calling upon his staff to make such a record as would overshadow anything done in the past.

The banquet was graced by the presence of Mrs. Sadlier and Miss Keating, of this city, and Mrs. L. S. Snier, of Port Jervis.

Although Mr. Sadlier has had charge of this district for little over a year, the wonderful growth of the business here is due almost entirely to his ceaseless and untiring efforts. A worker himself who, knows not what it is to be tired, he has impressed upon every member of his staff the same qualities that have made him so successful.

Believing that insurance is as much a profession as any other, he has made it his constant study, and relying upon the principles of strict integrity and honor, combined with the courtesy and tact of a gentleman, he has achieved this success. We hope for him a much larger measure of prosperity in the future and feel sure that he will attain it.

Those present were:

Thos. Haggart, Poughkeepsie, J. H. Thompson, M. D, J. M. Ward, M. D., and H B. Levy, Goshen; J. J. Ward, M. D., of Ellenville; Assistant Superintendents D. O'Connell and G. S. Dewitt, Agents W. O'Brien, M. I. Bank, H. A. Lambert, E. S. Starr, G. Miller, and M. Hockwald, of Port Jervis: Agent G. W. Weber, of Monticello; Superintendent C. P. Sadlier, M. C. Conner, M. D., T. L. Gillson, M. D., A. D. B. Staats, Esq., C. H. Emde, J. J, Sullivan, H. D. Suderly, Assistant Superintendents J. C. Tolles, and D. M. Reed, Agents F. M. McGill, J. S. Conkling, A. E. Reed, M. J. Dunham, J. F. T. Fountain, and E. A. Dunham, of Middletown.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Organization—Dr. Purdy Appointed Health Officer—Dill Cranston "Sanitary Inspector" at a Reduced Salary.

The Board of Health met and organized, last evening. Dr. F. A. Carpenter was made temporary President, although he is not a member of the Board.

Dr. Purdy was appointed Health Officer; Mr. F. A. R. Pronk, Registrar of Vital Statistics and Dill Cranston, who last year drew $250 from the city treasury as Sanitary Inspector and who never performed an hour or even a minute of service was re-appointed Sanitary Inspector The Board for some reason of its own reduced the salary to $100, but it is understood authorized the "Sanitary Inspector" to employ a plumber to do the work if any is necessary.

DILL CRANSTON'S JOB.

Reappointed Sanitary Inspector and to Hire the Inspecting Done.

The Board of Health, by its reduction of the salary of the "Sanitary Inspector," last night, recognized in a measure, the claim made by the Argus that the office was purely a political one and that the salary paid was merely a gift to the beneficiary. But the Board did not rise above party and refuse to make an appointment. Every member of the Board knows that Mr. Cranston is no more fitted to be Sanitary Inspector than he is competent to hold the office of President of the United States, nor than is any other member of the Board, and his appointment, at a salary of $100, is simply a gift of that amount of the people's money. It is an outrage that should not be permitted and if the Common Council audits Mr. Cranston's bill for salary, every member who votes for it should be consigned to the oblivion of private life where he properly belongs.

It is understood that the Board recognizes Mr. Cranston's unfitness for the office and has authorized him to employ a competent person to make sanitary inspections. This being the case why should Mr. Cranston be paid for nothing?

It would be well if Middletown would follow the example of Jamestown and apply to the courts to prevent the payment of a salary to a man who is not legally the incumbent of the office to which a partisan Health Board has appointed him.

If the Board of Health in future amounts to nothing more than it has for the past year or two it would be a profitable thing for the city to abolish it altogether. It does nothing except to draw money from the city treasury.

The Mannerchor Dance.

The Mannerchor Germania gave another dance at their hall in the Opera House building, last evening. Most of the members and their families were present, and all had a good time. Berg and Sayer furnished the music, and dancing was kept up until a late hour this morning.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Cataract's Easter Hop—The Ivy Club's Ball—"Jersey Bill" Dying—Personal.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—The Easter hop given by the Cataract Hose Company at Music Hall, last night, was a decided success both socially and financially. The attendance was large, many being present from out of town. The costumes of the ladies were very handsome and up to date. The Cataract's are to be congratulated on their success in making their hops such enjoyable affairs that those who attend are always pleased to come again. A fine supper was served, which was heartily enjoyed by those present.

—The Ivy Democratic Club also entertained its friends of all parties, last evening, at Sayer's Hall, Politics were entirely forgotten, as the assembled crowd consisted of Republicans, Mugwumps and Prohibitionists, as well Democrats. The "Musical Magnets" furnished fine music. The walls and corners of the room were handsomely decorated with flags, bunting and evergreens, which with the bright dress of the ladies, made a very pretty effect.

—Wm. Tompkins, widely known as "Jersey Bill," is in a very precarious condition at the Erie House He is failing every hour and there is little or no chance of his recovery.

—Harry D. Mills has been appointed station agent for the Erie at Harrisons, N. J., a station on the suburbs of Newark. Harry is an estimable young man and will in time be found near the top of the ladder. We wish him the success he deserves. He left, this morning, to take his new position.

A MASONIC EVENT.

Grand Officers and Other Prominent Masons to Visit Hoffman Lodge.

On Tuesday evening, April 3 d, Hoffman Lodge, F. and A. M., will entertain the Grand Master of the State of New York, and his staff, on which occasion the third degree will be conferred upon several candidates.

The visit of the grand officers is an event of very considerable importance to a subordinate lodge and it is seldom that they are honored as Hoffman Lodge will be on this occasion.

Besides the grand officers, Inspector Williams, who is master of one of the lodges that meets in the Masonic Temple, in New York, and other prominent masons, of New York and Brooklyn, will be present.

Hoffman Lodge will do its best to entertain its distinguished guests and we are requested to say that all Master Masons in the 10th Masonic district are cordially invited to be present.

It is expected that delegations from all neighboring lodges will be present.

Prompt Payment of Accident Insurance.

Mr. George D. Clearwater, of Pine Bush, received, yesterday, through the agency of Case & Taylor, payment in full for loss of time by his recent injury, received while unloading a coal car in the yard of W. F. Wallace. He was insured in the Travelers' Insurance Company.

Wallkill B. and L. Association.

A meeting of the Wallkill Building and Loan Association was held, last night, in the annex of the K. of P. hall. There was a good attendance and a good report of shares sold since the last meeting was made.

HAND IN HAND.

When spring was young and life was new,
Love was our only thought and guide.
Sweet were the flowers he led us through
And sweet our golden side by side.

Then summer came, a golden flood,
And still we followed hand in hand,
Love was the music in our blood
And love the glory of the land.

Rich autumn fell, and winter drove
The fruity ripeness from the air,
But wrapped in warm, soft robes of love,
What recked we if the world was bare?

So round again we come to spring,
Strong for another year's emprise.
The birds are whist to hear us sing,
The sun is dazzled by our eyes.

For hand in hand, where'er we go,
Earth under foot and heaven above,
Love is the only life we know,
And every breath we breathe is love.

—New York Advertiser.

PART OF A LIFE.

"So you want my little girl for your wife, do you?"

The speaker, from a glance at his snowy hair and mustache and sorrowful dark eyes, one would suppose to have been a man well along in years, but on looking more closely at the well knit, supple form reclining at ease in the study chair it was discovered to be an "old head on young shoulders."

His deep, musical voice was half sad, half tender as he continued to address the young man, who, standing before him, was nervously toying with a book that lay on the table at his right.

"Perhaps I'm not quite as surprised as you thought I would be. You have played together as little children, as boy and girl you were companions, and now that you are a man and Maud is a woman your hearts naturally turn to each other, and I will see my dearest wish realized. The friendship that has existed between your father and myself for 16 years will be augmented by the union of our only children. You are a good, manly fellow, Hugh, but a trifle hot headed and impulsive. Learn to control yourself, boy; learn to control yourself.

"You have much of my disposition, and I would save you from the rocks on which my happiness was wrecked—you and my little girl.

"Sit down, Hugh, here, near me, and I will tell you a story—an answer to the question you have so often had on the tip of your tongue to ask me, 'What was it that turned the hair of such a comparatively young man white?' Tush, boy, don't look confused—you couldn't help wondering.

"Well, to begin with, 30 years ago I married one of the fairest, sweetest little women that ever won the love of man. I was a reporter on an evening paper, ambitious and struggling to rise in my profession. We rented a little house in the suburbs, and although we had not much of this world's goods our home was a very happy one for the first six or eight months. Then little bickerings and fault finding began. Bitter quarrels finally grew out of the most trivial things, and scarcely a day passed that there had not been angry words spoken by one or the other.

"We loved each other dearly, and we tried hard to avoid all this. We had resolved again and again in our moments of repentance that we would treat each other with more consideration, be more forbearing, but it seemed useless—our troubles increased.

"So it went on for several months. I had become morose and gloomy, and Nora's poor little face had grown so pale and sad that the sight of it made my heart ache.

"One lovely morning in early summer, when the roses that clambered over our cottage walls were in bloom and nodding their pretty heads at us through the windows, when the birds, newly mated, were singing their joy and the air was heavy with the perfume of flowers and breathed only love and peace, the crisis came.

"While I was hurriedly getting ready to go to the office something occurred to detain me. I was annoyed and spoke sharply to Nora. She answered me in an insolent, taunting manner that always enraged me. Our words grew hotter and hotter and more extravagant. In my anger I applied a shameful epithet to her.

"'Coward!' she almost shrieked as she sprung toward me, her face distorted with rage and defiance.

"What devil possessed me I do not know, but quick as a flash I raised my hand and struck her in the face with all the force I could summon.

"She was such a slender little woman that she had not the strength to withstand my powerful blow. With a low, heartrending cry she sank to the floor. Almost before she fell my senses returned. I realized what I had done, and falling on my knees beside her took her in my arms, kissed the poor bleeding lips I had so brutally lacerated, and with my tears dropping on her face implored her forgiveness. She seemed completely broken. Her anger was all gone, and there was a startled, grieved look in her eyes that cut me to the heart.

"She lay motionless in my arms while I begged her to forgive me. Then she said softly:

"'It doesn't matter, dear. It was my fault as much as yours. We will never let it happen again. Now go to work—you are late already.'

"She said it so strangely, with such a queer look in her eyes, that I would not consent to leave her. But she insisted, and when she bade me goodby she said, taking my face between her hands and drawing it toward her: 'I love you, with all my heart, my darling husband. I will love you for ever and ever. Now go, dear.'

"What a long, long day that was! It seemed as if my work never would be finished. My heart was so full of love for Nora.

"I bought a bunch of dark roses on my way home to my wife, for of our court life, when they were the flowers I always brought her. I did not enter the house by the front door, as usual, because I wanted to slip up behind her where she was at work getting dinner and surprise her with the flowers and a kiss.

"Softly I opened the kitchen door. There was no sign of any preparation for dinner—everything was in order. 'Perhaps Nora has cried herself sick,' I said to reassure myself. I went to the bedroom—everything in order there, but the room was empty. Nervously I hurried through every room, looked into every closet, went down cellar, out to the coal shed, up to the attic. I didn't expect to find her in any of these places. I was sure she had gone away, but I must look for her somewhere.

"I went back to the bedroom again and there found the note she had left for me pinned to my pillow.

"Poor little tear stained letter! Here it is, worn in the folds and yellow with age—this is what she wrote:

"Don't think it is because I am angry at what you did this morning that I go. I cannot stay, because I cannot make you happy. You will at least live in peace without me. I love you, my husband, and I always will. Think of me sometimes and of how much I loved you. But, no; if it makes you sad to think of me, forget me. God bless you. I love you. NORA.

"That was all. It gave no clew. Was she living or dead?

"If living, I was determined to find her. I searched for her everywhere, advertised, traveled—all in vain. Nearly three years passed, and not a word had I heard from her. I had almost come to the conclusion that she was dead. During that time it was that my hair turned white.

"I was working as a reporter on a New York morning paper, gathering news and searching for my wife.

"One bitter cold night the last week in January I was sent to report a fire that had broken out in a large tenement house in one of the poorest quarters of the city. The greater part of the building was in flames when I arrived. The firemen saw that it would be useless to try to save it and were directing their efforts to getting out the frightened inmates. I did what I could to assist them in rescuing the poor wretches.

"At last, when we thought they were all out the smoke cleared away from a part of the building, and by the light of the flames that leaped up we saw the figures of two women in a window. One of them had a bundle in her arms and was preparing to leap to the ground. I motioned her back. In a moment a fireman moved a ladder to the place ascended and returned with one of the women, a little hunchback. The other, the one with the bundle, clasped it convulsively, tottered and would have fallen to the ground but for the fireman who had just reached her. Quickly he descended, bearing her unconscious form.

"'Guess she's about gone. Get a place ready for her, quick! Let me lay her down!' he shouted.

"Off came my overcoat, and the fireman laid her on it.

"I stooped to see if she was badly burned, and also to see what was in the bundle. A little child about 2 years old, round eyed and frightened, looked at me from the wet, steaming blanket that was wrapped around it. A pretty little thing, I thought as I disengaged it from the blistered arms that clasped it. The woman was badly burned about the body. I drew away the towel that she had around her head and saw—my wife! pale and worn, but still the same features, the same clustering brown curls on her forehead. My wife, given back to me like this! Frantically I called for help, for a doctor. There happened to be one in the crowd.

"He looked at Nora's burns and shook his head. There was no hope. She would probably never open her eyes again, but she did. The great dark eyes looked up at me, and the lips murmured:

"'Maudie—baby.'

"I held the baby over her. She smiled faintly and said:

"'Maudie—perhaps—papa—will—Tell him—I always—loved—I'——

"But her eyes closed, and her head fell against my breast. She was dead.

"Did she recognize me in those few moments? God only knows. I could not tell.

* * * * * *

"The crippled girl who was with her in the window, and whom she insisted on the fireman rescuing first, told me how she had met Nora in the hospital over two years before, when Maudie was born, of Nora's kindness to her and of her weary struggle for bread, and she it was who found and gave to me her wedding ring and a tiny locket with my picture in it that was fastened around her neck when she died. She had never parted with them, no matter how great her poverty was."—New York Advertiser.

A False Maxim.

The loungers around the only store in a little New England village were greatly amused at something that happened one warm afternoon. A tall, lank, barefooted man came into the store with a gallon pail filled with blackberries, which he exchanged for three quarts of molasses.

He carried a stout hickory walking stick in one hand, and when he departed he put the pail on one end of the stick and threw the stick across his shoulder. He reached the platform in front of the store when a shining new pin at his feet caught his eye.

"See a pin and pick it up,
All the day you'll have good luck," he drawled out and stooped over to pick up the pin, when the molasses crawled out all over his back and neck.

Straightening himself hurriedly, the man said:

"Waal, I never thought much of that air proverb, an I think less on it neow than I ever did."—Youth's Companion.

Turkish Women's Progress.

Turkish women having obtained permission to practice as physicians in their own country, they are now beginning to study medicine at various European universities. Three young Turkish ladies, one a daughter of a pasha, have recently arrived in France in order to go through a regular course of medical training at French universities.—Paris Journal.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even a the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 150 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recomendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive; it does away with the warping and shrinkage of doors and casings, and the building is not saturated with water, as is necessarily must be when common plaster is used; it costs originally but little more than lime plaster, and in the end its superior qualities make it immeasurably cheaper; it saves waiting several weeks or months for the buildings to dry out; it does not crack or fall off, even in the case of leakage; it is applied easily by any good plasterer; it is the only material with which repairing can be done neatly and "to stay."

Pathetic.

A lady who had spent a great deal of time in trying to teach her servant girl to make a good drawn butter gravy, and who found no little scolding necessary to accomplish it, called Bridget in to the dinner table one day and said sweetly:

"Bridget, this drawn butter gravy is actually bitter!"

"Is that so, ma'am?" asked Bridget sorrowfully.

"It is, Bridget. Now, how do you account for it?"

"I do' know, ma'am, but I do be thinkin, ma'am, that I dhropped a tear intil it!"—Youth's Companion.

Way Up.

"And do you find marriage so very elevating?"

"Extremely so. Since I have been married I have lived on the eighth floor."—Life.

He Loved Another.

"Oh, George, you love another!"

Such were the words of a fair, pale girl as she clung to the arm of a tall, handsome man in the dimly lighted parlor of her father's home.

He was such a man as women love, and this fair girl loved him.

They had been sweethearts for months, and the day was approaching when their plighted truth was to be redeemed.

Into her heart a doubt had come, and it had found expression in the opening words of the chapter.

"I darling," he said childingly, "how foolishly you talk! You know I do not."

"But you do, dear," she insisted. "I have been watching you, and I have seen it."

"How could you?" he contended tenderly. "There is no one in all the world I love as I do you."

She gazed fondly into his handsome eyes, laid her soft, white hand caressingly on his rich brown hair and whispered her words of admiration into his willing ear, until he was so inflated with pride that the buttons on his beautifully fitting coat began to stretch their necks.

"How silly of my little girl to say her Georgie loves another!" he smiled as he looked down into her sweet face.

She shook her head no less doubtfully than before. "Come now," he coaxed, "tell me who this person is I love more than I do you."

She was silent.

"Tell me," he murmured, taking her in his arms.

"Yourself, George," she sighed hopelessly, for she was onto her Georgie, and she knew that such a love was unchangeable from the cradle to the grave.

It is a difficult matter, dear reader, for a handsome man to be in love with anything else, and don't you forget it, especially if you are a woman.—Detroit Free Press.

A Familiar Domestic.

Matilda Snowball is a typical colored servant. When she hired out to Mrs. Judge Peterby of Austin, she remarked:

"I knows we will git along wid each udder, bekase I ze allers so familiar wid white folks."

Matilda was really not at all stuck up. Mrs. Peterby put up with a good deal, but an incident occurred a few nights ago that resulted in Matilda being bundled out of the house. It occurred as follows.

"Are you gwine entertain de deception at Gubner Hogg's mansion dis ebenin'?" asked Matilda.

"Yes, Matilda, I am one of the invited guests."

"I ze so glad ter hear dat. You am gwine in ter hurrup yo' min' yer?"

"Yes," replied Mrs. Peterby somewhat mystified, "but why do you ask?"

Steak All Right For Once.

Wife (late to breakfast)—Mercy! That cook has ruined the steak! One end is burned black, and the other end is raw.

Husband (who came down early)—Don't be burned at all—just nice and brown, that's all. The other end is a little rare, but I like it that way.

"Nonsense! I'll ring for the cook at once."

"Cook's sick."

"Then who broiled the steak?"

"I did."—New York Weekly.

The Professional Shopper.

I come from every part of town.
I'm shopping by eleven.
I turn the store upside down
And don't get home till seven.

I look at stocks of every class,
From ribbons to piano.
But all I ever buy is
Is bonbons and bananas.

I price and sample everywhere,
But make a purchase never.
For clerks may frown, and clerks may swear
But I'll shop on forever.

I'm after every bargain sale.
I watch each "flood" and "fire."
I go when "marked down" rates prevail
And likewise when they're higher.

On opening days I'm sure to be
In very highest feather.
I'm always bound to go and see,
No matter what the weather.

I price and sample day by day,
But make a purchase never.
For clerks may come and fade away,
But I'll shop on forever.

It is the keenest joy for me,
Where crowds are congregating,
To daily with the clerks and see
The other people waiting.

And when I can no longer stay,
The clerk's poor soul to harrow,
I tell him, "I'll not buy today,
But I'll come back to-morrow."

Though years may come, and years may go,
And earthly ties may sever,
'Twill still be joy enough for me
To just shop on forever.

SIGHTS HERE AND THERE.

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

Rose Buds for Voters—Coxey's Army of the Commonweal—A Possible Menace to Public Safety—The Proper Place for Its Commander.

Miss Mamie Bunch, a teacher of Tuscola, Ill., set out to secure the Republican nomination for Superintendent of Schools. Five men were in the field against her, but she easily carried off the prize. There was, however, a good deal of ill feeling engendered among the defeated candidates and their friends, and realizing that she "must fight if she would win," Miss Bunch prepared for work at the polls in an entirely original and very womanly way. She provided herself with several hundred rose buds and when a voter approached the polls she stopped him, pinned the blossom on the lapel of his coat, and making the most of the opportunity thus afforded gave him to understand that she would feel highly honored if he could find it in his heart to vote for her. It was a great scheme and worked so successfully that Miss Bunch, in spite of many predictions to the contrary, carried the town by over 100 plurality.

The newspapers are making a great joke of the march of Coxey's Army of the Commonweal, and the spectacle of a few score tatterdemalions, starting out on a trip to Washington with the avowed purpose of demanding from Congress the enactment of an absurd and vicious law, is not without its humorous side. The Army of the Commonweal may prove, however, to be no laughing matter. There will, of course, be desertions from its ranks, for the way from Massilon to Washington is long, and the average tramp don't like to walk, but the so-called army, unless it goes to pieces under stress of the cold weather, which came upon it as soon as its march was begun, is bound to attract to itself every vagabond and social Ishmaelite along the route it travels. Already we are told of gangs of tramps that are organizing in various cities to join it as it trails across the country on its way to the National Capital. If the army keeps moving it will grow by a process of natural accretion, for the human creature is gregarious, and gregariousness is one of the attributes of humanity that the tramp never loses.

I do not wonder that cities and villages on the line of march that Coxey has mapped out view the threatened incursion with unmixed terror. None of them have police forces at all adequate to cope with such a band of vagrant outlaws as will make up the greater part of Coxey's horde. There can, of course, be no discipline in such a host, and relying on numerical strength and putting into practical effect the saying of Talleyrand that "a mob is always worse than the worst man in it," pillage and rapine are likely to be left in the track of the Army of the Commonweal.

The mere assembling of a few hundred or a few thousand tramps and outlaws, would be an experiment so hazardous that no one but a crack-brained enthusiast or reckless knave would dare to attempt it. But in Coxey's army there is a new element of danger. Among his recruits are not a few men with brains, who have studied social problems, the distribution of wealth, the rewards of labor and other economic questions, until their intellects have become warped and twisted and they see no way to right what they regard as existing wrongs and to bring about the equality of man, except by smashing things. They are Socialists and Anarchists of the extremest type, far more dangerous enemies to society than the tramps and vagrants who make up the rank and file of this "rag-tag and bob-tail" army. Every Socialist and Anarchist is a propagandist and Socialism and Anarchy will be preached and proclaimed along the route until the whole army is leavened with the dangerous leaven of Anarchy.

Perhaps nothing will come of it all. America is very lucky about such things, but it's taking great chances to leave Coxey at liberty. A lunatic asylum or a prison would be the proper place for him.

THE DURLAND TRUST COMPANY.

A Well Managed and Remarkably Successful Financial Institution.

We are indebted to the Durland Trust Company, of Norfolk, Neb., for a copy of its annual souvenir, which contains much interesting information concerning Norfolk and the country roundabout it, and which gives a clear understanding of how it comes that Norfolk has grown so rapidly in wealth and population.

The Durland Trust Company, of which Hon. A. J. Durland, formerly of Orange county, is President, devotes its attention strictly to placing loans on real estate and many thousands of dollars of Orange county capital have been invested through it.

The company has made for itself a most enviable record, for although it has been loaning money for ten years, it has made no losses of either principal or interest and at the same time has avoided all unpleasant friction with borrowers. Such a record speaks well for the tact, financial ability and sound judgment of Hon. A. J. Durland, the president of the Trust Company and its active manager, who is rightly regarded as one of the most successful business men in Northern Nebraska.

ST. PAUL'S SUNDAY SCHOOL ELECTION.

Officers Chosen for the Year—Gratifying Reports.

The annual meeting of the Sunday School Board occurred, last evening, in St. Paul's Church, and the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

Superintendent—John Creesy.
First Assistant Supt.—Charles J. Cooper.
Second Assistant Supt.—Miss Lena M. Hinchman.
Supt. Primary Department—Miss M. A. Cox.
Secretary—Miss I. M. Benton.
Treasurer—Alton S. Reynolds.
Chorister—S. D. Hampson.
Librarian—Spencer Cowley.
Pianist—Miss Grace Stevens.
Organist—Miss Lulu Robertson.

Refreshments were served to members of the Board and the church officials and their wives at the close of the business meeting.

The annual reports of officers presented last evening, showed the school to be in a very prosperous condition, the membership having largely increased during the past year. Several new teachers were elected to membership in the Board. Robert Lawrence, who has been the faithful and efficient Superintendent for the past seven years, declined a re-nomination.

BOLD HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A Port Jervis Man Assaulted and Robbed in that Village.

Sunday morning, about 2 o'clock, as Conductor John Doty was returning to his home in Port Jervis, after making a trip on the railroad, he was seized from behind by two men, thrown to the ground and relieved of his gold watch and chain. He saw the men run to the gymnasium nearby and notified an officer, who found that John Balmos had entered the building.

Yesterday morning, Balmos took the officers to a spot where he had hidden the watch and it was recovered.

Preaching in Favor of Early Closing of Stores.

Newburgh merchants after April 1st will keep their stores open evenings. One of the ministers of that city, Rev. Arthur H. Grant, pastor of the Unitarian Church, has taken the matter so much to heart that he preached a sermon in favor of early closing. His argument was that if the stores were kept open they brought people out upon the streets and the greatest beneficiaries are the saloons.

The Chrysanthemum Club's Ball.

The Chrysanthemum Club will hold its first annual ball, in Nearing's Hall, on the evening of April 10th. The Chrysanthemum Club, of Elizabeth, N. J., has been invited, and its members are expected to be present. It will be a full dress affair, and as the club is composed of young ladies only, we may expect to see something better in the way of a social event than usual.

Appointed Tiler of Hoffman Modge.

Worshipful Master W. M. Combs, of Hoffman Lodge, F. and A. M., has appointed Mr. William T. Barker Tiler of the lodge to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. H. A. Kingsland. Mr. Barker has been a mason since 1858, and is one of the oldest members of Hoffman Lodge. No better appointment could have been made.

It May Do As Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill. writes that he had a severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to the cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Prices only 50c. for large bottle at McMonagle & Rogers Drug store.

WICKED PORT JERVIS.

One of Its Ministers Discourses on the Immorality of the Village.

Rev. Ame Vennema, of Port Jervis, preached a sermon Sunday evening from the subject, "Is the young man safe?" which has set the people of that village talking.

The preacher claimed that the odds are against the young men in Port Jervis. He said that a boy coming from the 'ridge to the Mountain House school was compelled to pass nineteen saloons, and coming from Jersey avenue through Pike street to the same school would pass thirty-seven saloons. He said the village had seventy-seven licensed saloons and a dozen or more unlicensed ones, an average of one saloon for every thirty-one registered voters. He estimated that the aggregate receipts of the saloons per year was $224,108.

Mr. Vennema also paid his respects to the gambling houses, the nickel-in-the-slot machines and another and greater evil which he said he could not name, but which affected the purity of the young people.

Port Jervis is certainly a wicked town and it is hoped Rev. Mr. Vennema's sermon will have the effect of bringing about reforms.

COAL THIEVES ARRESTED

Fifty Tons a Month Stolen from the Susquehanna Road in Paterson.

From the Paterson Press.

William Bauer and three other members of a detective agency at Wilkesbarre, Pa., who have been investigating the wholesale stealing of coal on the Susquehanna Railroad in this vicinity for two weeks, swore out warrants, yesterday morning, for the arrest of thirty-two persons, nearly all of whom live in the Third Ward. The detectives allege that the accused have stolen on an average of fifty tons of coal a month since the road was opened to the anthracite regions. Two of the detectives assumed the role of tramps while ascertaining the names and residences of the thieves.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Made Him Feel as Young as a Boy.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen—I wish to express my grateful thanks for Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am on my seventh bottle and it has truly been a blessing to myself and wife. I had a severe attack of pneumonia last December, and it was thought I should die, but I gradually pulled through, and then did not seem to gain any strength. I had to be helped like an infant, and had fallen away from 145 to 80 lbs. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I decided to take it.
